Home Schooled Students: how to take the exam.

Please note that individuals may take the exam regardless of whether they have taken an AP Italian course or are a High School student. We advise all students interested in the Italian AP exam who have not attended an AP Italian course that they can take the exam following these steps:

1. exams must be ordered and administered in schools. approved by the College Board.
2. students should contact AP Services no later than March 1st to get contact information for approved schools;
3. additional information regarding locations where the AP Italian exam is to be held may be found at:

<https://apcourseaudit.epiconline.org/ledger/search.php> [9].

Or you may contact AP Services. Once they know your ZIP CODE, AP Service can identify the school closest to your address that accepts homeschooled students (regardless of whether that particular school offers an AP Italian course). Following is the contact information for AP Services:
