

Rooting from the rooftop

SUBMITTED PHOTO

Fabio Ruberto of Forward Township, left, wanted to do something enormous after the Steelers' big win at Denver in the AFC championship game. So he created a 32-foot circumference logo to mount on his Wagner Road garage. He used more than 80 feet of steel tubing that was welded and then connected to lights that turn on automatically. "Everyone loves it," Ruberto said. He said people driving by honk their car horns and the children on school buses are excited to see it. The Steelers will meet the NFC champion Seattle Seahawks Sunday in the Super Bowl in Detroit.

INSIDE

■ The Steelers have a versatile offensive weapon in Antwaan Randle El. P/17

■ Steelers fans longing for their prayers to be answered this Sunday have an ally with some experience — Cardinal Adam Maida, the archbishop of Detroit and a longtime Black and Gold fan. P/32

Pittsburgh's going to the

Super Bowl

■ County fans show their support for the Steelers. P/32